HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

ROSE-HULMAN
INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Thanks for Helping Rose-Hulman

A pebble, no matter how big or small, has a resounding ripple effect after being tossed into a pool of water. Those ripples continue and, in many cases, their wave size increases throughout the course of their life cycle.

This is the same type of impact each name within this year's Honor Roll of Donors has had on Rose-Hulman's past, present and future—no matter how big or small the contribution.

Forever thankful for the scholarships that he received as a student, 2007 alumnus Nathan Carlson set a goal to give the institute $50,000 by his 10-year reunion. He took advantage of Microsoft's payroll deduction and matching program to achieve it by this year's Homecoming.

Google employees Mike McDonald (Class of 2014), Alex Memering (Class of 2015) and Tyler Rockwood (Class of 2016) have given nearly $30,000 cumulatively since graduation.

These gifts are providing supplemental learning experiences beyond the classroom in the Department of Computer Science and Software Engineering, through the sponsorship of hackathons and international study opportunities.

Rose-Hulman excels at transforming students into tomorrow's problem solvers as scientists, engineers and mathematicians. Although we earn accolades annually, there are more than 300 colleges and universities with endowments larger than ours. Those include the technological-based institutions with whom we regularly compete for students.

At just over $200 million, Rose-Hulman's endowment limits our ability to provide competitive scholarships and financial aid. In fact, we take between $35 million and $40 million annually from our budget to address this shortfall in assistance to our students. A higher endowment would allow us to ease the pressure on our own operating funds, while doing the same for prospective students and their families with limited budgets.

There can be no more important mission at Rose-Hulman than giving undergraduates the best science, engineering and math education in an environment of individual attention and support. Currently, about 30 percent of our alumni give to the annual fund each year. More pebbles creating ripples in the water, increasing our annual giving rate to 50 percent—achievable in the past—would help advance Rose-Hulman's mission and drive us into the future.

I hope you will join me in making an impact on Rose-Hulman and the lives of our students. Reach out to me at brady1@rose-hulman.edu or 812-877-8784. I look forward to working with you to support Rose-Hulman.

“Keeping Rose-Hulman No.1 is an ever-increasing challenge – it will require world-class facilities and professors, and a much larger endowment to sustain both. It’s gratifying to be able to give back to the institute that provided me with so many great, memorable experiences.”

— Jim Gidcumb (CHE, 1976), who has joined his wife, Cathy, in generously providing annual financial support to the institute and are members of the Chauncey Rose and 1874 Heritage giving societies. Jim, a football and tennis standout for the Engineers (worthy of Athletic Hall of Fame induction), has been president of the Rose-Hulman Alumni Association and coordinator of alumni activities in St. Louis, where the couple lives.

“It’s a life-long connection. At Rose-Hulman, you got a good education from people who really cared about you. The education I received laid the foundation for a good life for both of us.”

— Art Nelson (ME, 1975), who joined wife, Jo Ann, in establishing the Nelson Memorial Scholarship Fund, named in honor of Art’s late parents, Arthur and Grace Nelson. Art and Jo Ann are Chauncey Rose Society members.

“I wouldn’t have been able to go to Rose if not for the generosity of others,” says Tim Hachfeld (EE, 2008), who attended Rose-Hulman through a scholarship provided by benefactors John and Elizabeth White. Tim applied his technical skills and love of his country in an eight-year stint with the U.S. Navy, serving as an officer (reaching the rank of lieutenant) aboard the U.S.S. Georgia, a nuclear-powered submarine. For years, he has included Rose-Hulman as a beneficiary of his life insurance policies. “Faced with my Navy life insurance policy, I looked back at the people or organizations that had had the biggest impact on my life,” he says. Rose-Hulman seemed an obvious choice.

— Tim Hachfeld (EE, 2008)
