

Name: _____ Section: 1 (6th-7th) or 2 (8th-9th)

Do the reading assigned below and answer these questions either while reading or afterwards (your choice). Not sure of an answer? Ask your instructor to explain at the beginning of the next class session.

Reading for this quiz: The Course Syllabus at:

1. If there are questions on this quiz whose answer you don't know (or are not sure of), you can leave that question blank, ask your question at the beginning of the next class session, and then turn in this quiz for full credit. (Choose one.) True False.

(Hint: The answer is True, so take this quiz seriously – learn from it – but don't worry if you don't understand all the answers to a reading quiz from the reading alone.)

2. You are allowed to leave the entire quiz blank and just get the answers from friends at the beginning of the next class session. (Choose one.) True False.

(Hint: The answer is False. Try very hard to do each reading quiz before the next class session, but if you cannot, that falls under the Late Assignment Policy.)

3. For many students, the best place and time to do homework is:

Where:

When:

4. What email should you use for the fastest answers to your questions about the material of this course?

5. True or False: If you fail to do a homework, you fail the course. (Circle your choice.) True False

6. True or False: You can redo a homework if you do not get a satisfactory score on it. True False

7. If you get 100% on all the projects and all the Python tests, but 62% on the (sole) C exam (both written and computer parts), your grade for the course is:

8. What single item counts the most toward your overall grade?

(Hint: it will also be the most fun thing in the course.)

9. If you have not completed an assignment by the time it is due, you can still turn it in late (within reason) if you:

10. You are cheating and will suffer penalties if you do homework with friends. (Circle your choice.) True False

11. You are cheating if your friend does the first part of the homework and you do the second part, then you exchange your parts. (Circle your choice.) True False

12. Sign your name below this ONLY after you can do so honestly (bring your questions to class):

I have read the Academic Integrity section of the Course Syllabus and I understand it.
